Robot 95 Silvio Sosio 2022-09-20 Fantascienza - rivista (220 pagine) - Versione digitale di Robot 95 con racconti di Sarah Pinsker - Naomi Kritzer - Roberto Vacca - Dario Tonani - Lukha B. Krem - Nicola Catellani - Daniele Dafichi - Ricordo di Valerio Evangelisti - La Terra Spezzata - Archive 81 - "Robot 95" a cura di Silvio Sosio Preparatevi a leggere uno dei racconti più curiosi: Dove si raccolgono i cuori di quercia con cui Sarah Pinsker ha vinto il Premio Nebula e pochi giorni prima della preparazione di questo numero anche il Premio Hugo, dove attraverso note, commenti e "like" a un'immaginaria canzone tradizionale commentata su un sito di appassionati emerge piano piano una vicenda dai risvolti sinistri. Più tranquilla è la storia dello scaffaletto per quello che noi chiameremmo book crossing, immaginata da Naomi Kritzer, nella quale cominciano ad apparire strani oggetti e inconsueti messaggi. Dalla quiete del Minnesota torniamo sulle Alpi e andiamo a scoprire il curioso visitatore di una chiesetta montana con Nicola Catellani, e poi veniamo brutalmente gettati nella Sarajevo sotto i bombardamenti nel racconto di Daniele Dafichi. I dubbi etici del suo protagonista non sono molto diversi da quelli che solleva il grande Roberto Vacca: se disponeste di una cura per vivere il doppio, la donereste al mondo? Ma poi quale mondo? Mondo 9, risponde Dario Tonani, o magari un mondo muto che ha perso il dono della parola, come nel racconto Premio Robot di Lukha B. Krem. Fondata da Vittorio Curtoni, Robot è una delle riviste di fantascienza italiane più prestigiose, vincitrice di un premio Europa e numerosi premi Italia. Dal 2011 è curata da Silvio Sosio.

World Report on Ageing and Health World Health Organization 2015-10-22 The WHO World report on ageing and health is not for the book shelf it is a living breathing testament to all older people who have fought for their voice to be heard at all levels of government across disciplines and sectors. - Mr Bjarne Hastrup President International Federation on Ageing and CEO DaneAge This report outlines a framework for action to foster Healthy Ageing built around the new concept of functional ability. This will require a transformation of health systems away from disease based curative models and towards the provision of older-person-centred and integrated care. It will require the development sometimes from nothing of comprehensive systems of long term care. It will require a coordinated response from many other sectors and multiple levels of government. And it will need to draw on better ways of measuring and monitoring the health and functioning of older populations. These actions are likely to be a sound investment in society's future. A future that gives older people the freedom to live lives that previous generations might never have imagined. The World report on ageing and health responds to these challenges by recommending equally profound changes in the way health policies for ageing populations are formulated and services are provided. As the foundation for its recommendations the report looks at what the latest evidence has to say about the ageing process noting that many common perceptions and assumptions about older people are based on outdated stereotypes. The report's recommendations are anchored in the evidence comprehensive and forward-looking yet eminently practical. Throughout examples of experiences from different countries are used to illustrate how specific problems can be addressed through innovation solutions. Topics explored range from strategies to deliver comprehensive and person-centred services to older populations to policies that enable older people to live in comfort and safety to ways to correct the problems and injustices inherent in current systems for long-term care.

Improving Diagnosis in Health Care National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine
2016-01-29 Getting the right diagnosis is a key aspect of health care - it provides an explanation of a patient's health problem and informs subsequent health care decisions. The diagnostic process is a complex, collaborative activity that involves clinical reasoning and information gathering to determine a patient's health problem. According to Improving Diagnosis in Health Care, diagnostic errors-inaccurate or delayed diagnoses-persist throughout all settings of care and continue to harm an unacceptable number of patients. It is likely that most people will experience at least one diagnostic error in their lifetime, sometimes with devastating consequences. Diagnostic errors may cause harm to patients by preventing or delaying appropriate treatment, providing unnecessary or harmful treatment, or resulting in psychological or financial repercussions. The committee concluded that improving the diagnostic process is not only possible, but also represents a moral, professional, and public health imperative. Improving Diagnosis in Health Care a continuation of the landmark Institute of Medicine reports To Err Is Human (2000) and Crossing the Quality Chasm (2001) finds that diagnosis-and, in particular, the occurrence of diagnostic errors"has been largely unappreciated in efforts to improve the quality and safety of health care. Without a dedicated focus on improving diagnosis, diagnostic errors will likely worsen as the delivery of health care and the diagnostic process continue to increase in complexity. Just as the diagnostic process is a collaborative activity, improving diagnosis will require collaboration and a widespread commitment to change among health care professionals, health care organizations, patients and their families, researchers, and policy makers. The recommendations of Improving Diagnosis in Health Care contribute to the growing momentum for change in this crucial area of health care quality and safety.
