Teaching Language in Context Beverly Derewianka 2016 Language is at the heart of the learning process. We learn through language. Our knowledge about the world is constructed in language-the worlds of home and the community, the worlds of school subjects, the worlds of literature, the worlds of the workplace, and so on. It is through language that we interact with others and build our identities. Teachers' explanations, classroom discussions, assessment of student achievement, and students' understanding, composition, and evaluation of texts are all mediated through language. In this book, we will be exploring how an explicit understanding of how language works enables students to make informed choices in their use and understanding of texts. As educators, our job is to make sure that all students have a good command of the language needed to succeed in school and beyond. In order to do this, teachers need to know about language and how it works. This book is intended as an introduction to the language that students encounter in the various curriculum areas as they move through the years of schooling, and it will enable teachers to: plan units of work that are sensitive to the language demands placed on students; design activities with a language focus; select texts for reading at an appropriate level; analyse texts to identify relevant language and visual features; create teaching materials that integrate an awareness of language; help students to access meanings created through a variety of media (written, spoken, visual, multimodal); provide explicit support in developing students' writing and composing; assess students' written work; extend students' ability to articulate what they are learning. New to this Edition: Substantial revision and extension of all chapters. New Chapter 10 addressing inquiry genres and mixed genres. Section on the language challenges of middle and senior secondary. Additional activities. Language development from the early years through to late secondary. Increased emphasis on the multimodal nature of contemporary texts. Improved text design and visuals now in full colour.

Handbook of Reading Research Rebecca Barr 2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s, this well-received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses--some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views. A veritable "who's who" of specialists in the field, chapter authors cover current methodology, as well as cumulative research-based knowledge. Because it deals with society and literacy, the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy. The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy. The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading. The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next. The last section, an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research, provides apt philosophical reflection.

The BLUE level features more challenging four-letter words and the PURPLE level contains the most challenging words of all. It turns learning into a game! This file contains ALL 100 words in the Rainbow Words Program: I, a, at, up, an, if, in, is, it, on, be, he, we, go, no, so, do, to, by, my, or, of, as, can, had, has, him, his, did, not, get, but, and, see, how, now, her, for, day, may, you, out, its, all, the, she, are, use, was, who, one, will, look, like, them, then, made, make, more, time, than, just, with, this, each, down, very, long, into, your, what, when, come, some, find, most, only, over, have, been, many, said, were, they, from, call, after, first, there, their, these, where, which, words, other, little, know, about, would, could Photocopy the reproducible black and white pages for the students.
