Romy Schneider Marion Hallet 2022-03-24 The beautiful Austrian-born Romy Schneider was one of Europe's most popular film stars and a cult figure from the moment she played 'Sissi' (Empress Elisabeth of Austria) in the hugely popular Sissi trilogy in the mid-1950s. Although Schneider died in 1982 she continues to be one of the most popular stars in European cinema history. This book analyses her impressive career so as to place her within a range of European female stars, particularly Germanic and French, who defined cultural and ideological images of femininity on European screens. Schneider, who worked and was celebrated in Austria, Germany, Hollywood, and France, represents a fascinating case study to explore key questions of trans-European and transnational stardom, and Marion Hallet makes a valuable intervention in this growing field within star studies. Romy Schneider: A Star Across Europe shows how the representations of women stemming from Schneider's star image supported specific and shifting cultural and social agendas regarding femininity, from the 1950s to the 1980s. This book explores the significance of Schneider's image both when she was working and since, within Western European film culture and celebrity culture.

Romy Schneider Story Carolyn McGivern 2010-05 Determined to tread her own path, Austrian film sensation, Romy Schneider was talented, honest, prickly, loving and ultimately tragic. The star of over sixty movies including the cult, What's New Pussycat? Bloodline, The Assassination of Trotsky, The Cardinal and The Victors, at the height of her fame she ranked alongside Bardot, Loren and Cardinale. Reviled by the German Press when she fell in love with Alain Delon and moved to Paris and took French citizenship, she was sought out by the world's top producers and directors. Incredibly beautiful, after a brief flirtation with Hollywood, she chose to return to Europe where her talent shone brightly until her untimely death in 1982, aged just forty three. Romy has recently become a magnate for film makers and is currently the subject of two rival biopics. One is to be a big screen feature film and the other a high profile TV production. Jessica Schwarz of Perfume fame, is slated to play the lead role in Torsten Fischer's Romy. It is to be produced by Berlin based Phoenix-Film and has been written by Benedikt Roeskau. Shooting for the TV premier starts in Autumn 2009. Singer-actress Yvonne Catterfeld will play Schneider in Warner Bros' A Woman Like Romy, directed by Josef Rusnal. Raymond Danon, who produced Romy's last film in 1982, The Passerby, will produce the $36 million French-German co-production. It will launch

Romy's Garden Adventures Rob Towner 2012-12-15 Romy's Garden Adventures: Christmas City is written and illustrated by children's book author Rob Towner. In this adventure, Romy gets to hang out with some of her favourite friends from the animal kingdom including a snail, a bear dressed in a business suit, a turtle and even a talking tree named 'Surprised Tree'. This is a warm, adorable and slightly odd tale about the importance of sharing time with friends and family during the holiday season. At the very core of this Christmas story is the theme of friendship. Author Rob Towner was raised celebrating Christmas every year and believes that no matter what your religious background is, Christmas is a great excuse to give presents and to celebrate with friends and family. He also still believes in Santa because he's really smart. One time he actually saw old Saint Nick climbing down his chimney with all his presents one year when he was a kid. In return for not telling anyone, Santa let Rob hang out with his reindeers for a few hours whilst he delivered presents and ate cookies and milk. After that, Rob and Santa went flying around the entire galaxy delivering presents to all the good living cytoplasmic organisms who breath through their... Sorry, I'm rambling. Let me get back to this book. Whilst this is indeed the third instalment of the RGA series, it most definitely stands alone as an endearing Christmas special by its own merit. This book will be like candy canes and gingerbread and prove to be popular stocking filler for every Christmas. As a warning to the more sensitive of readers, this book contains a spider, thunder and lightning, and a really smelly fart. If you have read this far, why not dive deeper into the world of Rob Towner's eccentric imagination and visit his website robtowner.com.

Flashback, Eclipse Romy Golan 2021-11-02 From a leading art historian, a provocative exploration of the intersection of art, politics, and history in 1960s Italy Flashback, Eclipse is a groundbreaking study of 1960s Italian art and its troubled but also resourceful relation to the history and politics of the first part of the twentieth century and the aftermath of World War II. Most analyses have treated the 1960s in Italy as the decade of “presentism” par excellence, a political decade but one liberated from history. Romy Golan, however, makes the counterargument that 1960s Italian artists did not forget Italian and European history but rather reimagined it in oblique form. Her book identifies and explores this imaginary through two forms of nonlinear and decidedly nonpresentist forms of temporality—the flashback and the eclipse. In view of the photographic and filmic nature of these two concepts, the book’s analysis is largely mediated by black-and-white images culled from art, design, and architecture magazines, photo books, film stills, and exhibition documentation. The book begins in Turin with Michelangelo Pistoletto’s Mirror Paintings; moves on to Campo urbano, a one-day event in the city of Como; and ends with the Vitalità del Negativo exhibition in Rome. What is being recalled and at other moments occluded are not only episodes of Italian nationalism and Fascism but also various liberatory moments of political and cultural resistance. The book’s main protagonists are, in order of appearance, artists Michelangelo Pistoletto and Giosetta Fioroni, photographer Ugo Mulas, Ettore Sottsass (as critic rather than designer), graphic designer Bruno Munari, curators Luciano Caramel and Achille Bonito Oliva, architect Piero Sartogo, Carla Lonzi (as artist as much as critic), filmmakers Michelangelo Antonioni and Bernardo Bertolucci, and, in flashback among the departed, painter Felice Casorati, writer Massimo Bontempelli, art historian Aby Warburg, architect Giuseppe Terragni, and Renaissance friar-philosopher-mathematician Giordano Bruno (as patron saint of the sixty-eighters).

Language is Skin Romy Rügger 2018-09-18 A constellation of texts, largely written to be spoken. The scripts as they are printed do not document the performances primarily. They are indications of spatial and temporal layering, juxtapositions of aesthetic and poetic elements and bodies. Overlapping every day observations with archival material, confronting and jumping. Figures that intervene interruptions into the reproduction and maintenance of colonial poison cabinets and patriarchal canons. Histories of involvement. The folding of histories. Entangling feminist fictions. Taking care of. Trouble, always trouble. Contributors include, Romy Regger, Emma Haugh and Katherine MacBride. Romy Regger, (b.1983), is an Swiss based artist and writer working with sound based practices and shared listening. Her writings for performances, audio works and choreographed spaces draw on anti-racist and intersectional politics of language and memory. Most of the scripts in this publication were written on invitation of friends and are closely related to long term collaborations.

Caltech's Architectural Heritage Romy Wyllie 2000-06 The campus of the California Institute of Technology was destined for architectural greatness when, in 1915, the university's visionary founder, astronomer George Ellery Hale, retained one of New York's preeminent architects, Bertram Goodhue, to devise a master plan for 22 acres of orange groves in what was then rural Pasadena. Goodhue's eclectic "planted patios and shaded portales, sheltering walls, and Persian pools" set the tone for the campus's illustrious architectural future. Throughout the first half of the century, Caltech's nearly continuous expansion would spawn such architectural jewels as the Athenaeum, a combination Italian villa and Spanish hacienda; Greene and Greene's bungalow-style student union; and the gardens of landscape architects Beatrix Ferrand and Florence Yoch, who thoughtfully mixed the campus's Mediterranean themes with its natural California setting. Well-researched and informative, this book details the organizational and architectural elements that have made Caltech a model for scientific institutions the world over. Rare photographs of lost and altered buildings portray an early Pasadena with ambitious plans to become a cultural mecca, while contemporary images reflect the Institute's continued dedication to a rich architectural future.

Romy Schneider Michael Petzel 2004 Another book about Romy? Aren't there enough pictorials, biographies and memories already? Hasn't Romy Schneider's rollercoaster life been explored to the last detail? This luxurious illustrated volume proves this assumption wrong. It is a sensation even for ardent admirers of the great actress. This magnificent book collects gorgeous pictures of Romy's early films and unknown scenes from her private life. The photographs are mainly in color and show a brilliance never seen before, as they were reproduced from the original large size negatives and diapositives. For once, the pictures do not present Romy Schneider at the time of her French movies, but during the first five years of her career. It is the age of Agfacolor, with movies like sweet frosting, and a guaranteed happy ending. Most of the pictures in this large format photo collection have never been published before. These exclusive photos were found in missing archives and film productions or donated by close friends of Romy Schneider's, and also come from the famous Billy Kocian collection. This book contains color photos from the early movies Madchenjahre einer Konigin, Die Deutschmeister, Kitty und die groe Welt, Robinson soll nicht sterben, Monpti, Scampolo, Madchen in Uniform, Christine, Die Halbzarte, Ein Engel auf Erden, Die schone Lugnerin, and Katja, die ungekronte Kaiserin. For the first time a period of Romy's life which has only been treated fleetingly up until now is extensively documented. The movie presentations always show the same photos - this book gives a much more complete insight into the available material. This is why the reader is able to vividly comprehend Romy's coming-of-age. This photo collection is topped off by accounts from people who have worked with Romy Schneider, such as Fran Marischka (the son of Romy's discoverer, Ernst Marischka), executive producer Willy Egger, and assistant director Eva Ebner. The movies are also documented with detailed specifications as to staff and cast.
