Guerre secrète en Suisse Christian Rossé 2015-11-20 Pendant la Seconde Guerre mondiale, la Suisse restée neutre est le théâtre d'une intense activité d'espionnage. Alors que les douaniers allemands surveillent la frontière franco-helvétique, les services secrets alliés font de la Confédération la plaque tournante de leurs opérations clandestines. Peu à peu, une collaboration s'organise dans l'ombre entre le Service de renseignements suisse et ses homologues français, britannique, polonais, belge et américain. Ponctué de portraits et de récits d'enquêtes, cette histoire dessine une double perspective : celle des institutions fédérales, tiraillées entre une politique de neutralité séculaire et leur besoin de renseignements intéressant la défense du pays ; celle des individus, agents professionnels ou amateurs, réguliers ou occasionnels, petits contrebandiers ou chefs de section qui forment le tissu bigarré de cette communauté internationale du renseignement en Suisse. Le présent ouvrage s'appuie sur le dépouillement systématique des archives du renseignement, du contre-espionnage et de la justice militaire suisses, complété par l'examen de nombreux documents conservés aux archives nationales américaines et britanniques, ainsi que par des rencontres avec des vétérans de la guerre secrète. Historien suisse, Christian Rossé est spécialiste du renseignement helvétique pendant la Seconde Guerre mondiale. Il participe notamment au programme de recherches Une frontière entre la guerre et la paix aux universités de Neuchâtel et de Belfort-Montbéliard. Il a publié en 2006 Le SR suisse face à la menace allemande (1939-1945).

Systèmes judiciaires européens - Edition 2014 (données 2012) - Efficacité et qualité de la justice 2014-12-01 The new Edition of the report of the European Commission for the Efficiency of Justice (CEPEJ), which evaluates the functioning of the judicial systems in 45 Council of Europe's member states and an observer state to the CEPEJ, Israël, remains in line with the process carried out since 2002. Relying on a methodology which is already a reference for collecting and processing a wide number of quantitative and qualitative judicial data, this unique study has been conceived above all as a tool for public policy aimed at improving the efficiency and the quality of justice. To have the knowledge in order to be able to understand, analyse and reform, such is the objective of the CEPEJ which has prepared this report, intended for policy makers, legal practitioners, researchers as well as for those who are interested in the functioning of justice in Europe.

Education, Equity and Transformation Crain Soudien 2012-12-06 The papers for this special issue were selected from a pool of nearly 700 presentations which were made at the 10th Congress of the World Council of Comparative Education Societies (WCCES), which was held in Cape Town, South Africa, from 12 to 17 July 1998. The congress was hosted by the Southern African Comparative and History of Education Society (SACHES) and held on the campuses of the University of the Western Cape and the University of Cape Town. The papers were selected by the convenors of the conference's standing commissions, which provided a significant focus for the conference proceedings. These commissions were on the following themes: Teachers and teacher education Curriculum - Higher education - Lifelong learning - Language, literacy and basic education - Gender and education Policy - Theory and theory shifts Basic education in Africa Peace and Justice Dependency European Education Policy Research in Africa Culture, Indigenous Knowledge and Learning The papers presented, as the discussion below makes clear, ranged widely in subject matter and theoretical perspective and addressed issues of concern both to individual countries and to regions of the world. While some of the papers use comparison as an approach, it remains a matter of concern that the comparative perspective is so little in evidence. It is hoped that the comparative research approach will be more in evidence in the future.

The Correspondence of Charles Darwin: Charles Darwin 2015-03-05 This volume is part of the definitive edition of letters written by and to Charles Darwin, the most celebrated naturalist of the nineteenth century. Notes and appendixes put these fascinating and wide-ranging letters in context, making the letters accessible to both scholars and general readers. Darwin depended on correspondence to collect data from all over the world and to discuss his emerging ideas with scientific colleagues, many of whom he never met in person. The letters are published chronologically: volume 22 includes letters from 1874, the year in which Darwin completed his research on insectivorous plants and published second editions of Descent of Man and Coral Reefs. The year also saw an acrimonious dispute between Darwin and St George Jackson Mivart as a result of an anonymous review the latter had written in which he criticised Darwin's son George.
